1 Introduction

2 The IESBA Code of Ethics (the “Code”) establishes the fundamental principles of 3 professional ethics, with which firms and professional accountants comply and
4 addresses the independence requirements for audit engagements. The Code provides a
5 conceptual framework that the accountant is required to apply to (i) identify threats to 6 independence; (ii) evaluate the significance of the threats, and (iii) apply safeguards,
7 when necessary, to eliminate the threats or reduce them to an acceptable level. The 8 Code also prohibits certain interests and relationships because the threats created
9 would be such that no safeguards could reduce the threats to an acceptable level.

10
11 The principles-based approach in the conceptual framework, including the absolute
12 prohibitions, protects the public interest more satisfactorily than solely a detailed list
13 of rules. The conceptual framework addresses all situations and requires the 14 professional accountant to apply professional judgment to actively consider the facts
15 and circumstances faced. A strength of the Code lies in the fact that an interest or 16 relationship cannot be considered permissible simply because it is not prohibited. If a
17 situation is not described in the Code, the conceptual framework is to be applied in 18 evaluation the threat to independence.

19
20 The Code specifically addresses the independence provisions that apply to the audits
21 of public interest entities (PIEs)<sup>1</sup>. The Code identifies the circumstances and 22 relationships that are:

- 23 1. Prohibited;
- 24 2. Permitted only if certain conditions exist or specified safeguards are applied;
- 25 3. Specifically identified in the Code as requiring an analysis of threats and 26 application of safeguards when necessary.

27
28 This summary document identifies, at a high level, those interests or relationships that
29 are either prohibited or are permitted only if certain conditions exist or specified
30 safeguards are applied.

33 Summary of prohibitions

34 Prohibitions apply to:

35
36 Interests and relationships of individuals and the firm

37 Financial interests of the firm and of the audit team, partners in the engagement 38 office, and partners and managerial employees who provide non-audit services in the 39 audit client, and in certain cases, their related entities<sup>2</sup>.

40
41 Financial interests of the above in an entity in which the audit client also has an 42 interest.

<sup>1</sup> PIEs are listed entities and any entity defined by regulation or legislation as a PIE or for which the audit is required to be conducted in compliance with the independence requirements applicable to audits of listed entities.

<sup>2</sup> Prohibitions and provisions of the Code also apply to the individual’s immediate family members (unless otherwise stated).

44 Financial interests held by the above as a trustee in the audit client, and in certain
45 cases, their related entities, if the interest is material to the trust.

46

47 Loans to an audit team member or the firm (a) from an audit client that is a bank or 48 similar institution that has not been made under normal lending procedures, terms and 49 conditions and (b) from an audit client that is a not a bank or similar institution and is 50 material to either party.

51

52 Loans by an audit team member or the firm to an audit client that are material to either
53 party.

55 Deposits by an audit team member or the firm with a bank, broker or similar
56 institution that are not held under normal commercial terms.

57

58 Close business relationships with an audit client or its management if, in the case of 59 the firm, any financial interest is material or the business relationship is significant to 60 the firm or the client or its management and, in the case of the audit team member,
61 any financial interest is material or the business relationship is significant to the 62 member of the audit team.

63

64 Audit team members having an immediate family member who is a director or officer
65 of the audit client, or an employee in a position to exert significant influence over the 66 preparation of the audit client's accounting records or financial statements, or was in 67 such a position during any period covered by the engagement or the financial 68 statements.

69

70 Former audit team members or a partner of the firm joining an audit client if 71 significant connections remain with the firm.

72

73 A "key audit partner" or the firm's senior or managing partner joining an audit client
74 unless a defined period of time has elapsed.

75

76 An individual being on the audit team if they served, during the period covered by the 77 audit report, as a director or officer of the audit client, or an employee in a position to 78 exert significant influence over the preparation of the client's accounting records or 79 financial statements.

80

81 Partners and employees being a director or officer of any firm audit client.

82

83 The time that a key audit partner can fulfil that role for an audit engagement (seven 84 years, with two years off).

85

86 Non assurance services

87 The following non-assurance services are prohibited:

88

- Assuming a management responsibility.

89

- Subject to an exception for emergency situations, providing accounting and bookkeeping services, including payroll services, and preparing the financial statements (and related financial information).

90

- 92       • Valuation services that are material, separately or in the aggregate, to the 93       financial statements.
- 94       • Preparing tax calculations of current and deferred tax liabilities (or assets) for 95       the purpose of preparing accounting entries that are material to the financial 96       statements.
- 97       • Providing certain tax and corporate finance advice where the effectiveness of 98       the advice depends on a particular accounting treatment or presentation in the 99       financial statements, over which there is reasonable doubt, and which are 100      material to the financial statements.
- 101      • Acting as an advocate for an audit client before a public tribunal or court in the 102      resolution of a tax matter that is material to the financial statements.
- 103      • Providing internal audit services that relate to:
- 104          a. A significant part of the internal controls over financial reporting;
- 105          b. Financial accounting systems that generate information that is,
106          separately or in the aggregate, significant to the client's accounting
107          records or financial statements; or
- 108          c. Amounts or disclosures that are, separately or in the aggregate,
109          material to the financial statements.
- 110      • Designing or implementing IT systems that (a) form a significant part of the 111      internal control over financial reporting or (b) generate information that is 112      significant to the client's accounting records or financial statements.
- 113      • Estimating damages or other amounts, as part of litigation support services, 114      that are material to the financial statements.
- 115      • Acting in an advocacy role for the client in resolving a dispute or litigation 116      when the amounts involved are material to the financial statements.
- 117      • A partner or employee accepting an appointment as General Counsel.
- 118      • Negotiating on the client's behalf in recruitment activities.
- 119      • Certain executive recruitment services with respect to a director or officer of 120      the entity or senior management in a position to exert significant influence 121      over the preparation of the client's accounting records or the financial 122      statements.
- 123      • Providing corporate finance services involving promoting, dealing in, or 124      underwriting the client's shares.

125

126      Other Matters

127      A contingent fee must not be charged, directly or indirectly, in respect of an audit
128      engagement, or for non-assurance services where certain conditions exist

129

130      A key audit partner must not be evaluated or compensated based on that partner's
131      success in selling non-assurance services to the partner's audit client.

132

133      A firm or audit team member must not accept gifts or hospitality from an audit client
134      (unless the value is trivial and inconsequential).

135

136      Overarching Provisions

137      Engagement Period

138      Independence is required both during the engagement period and the period covered
139      by the financial statements.

140

141 Networks

142 All network firms are required to be independent of the audit clients of the other firms
143 within the network.

144

145 Related Entities

146 The Code's provisions apply to all related entities of listed audit clients. In the case of 147 other audit clients, they apply to related entities that are controlled by the client and in 148 some situations to other related entities.

149

150 Communication with Those Charged with Governance

151 Regular communication is encouraged between the firm and those charged with 152 governance of the audit client regarding relationships and other matters that might, in 153 the firm's opinion, reasonably bear on independence.

155 Documentation

156 The professional accountant is required to document conclusions regarding 157 compliance with independence requirements, and the substance of any relevant 158 discussions that support those conclusions and:

- 159 • When safeguards are required, the nature of the threat and the safeguards in 160 place or applied that reduce the threat to an acceptable level.
- 161 • When a threat required significant analysis to determine whether safeguards 162 were necessary and the professional accountant concluded that they were not
163 because the threat was already at an acceptable level, the nature of the threat
164 and the rationale for the conclusion.
